

Recommendation for Edward Stern

My name is Ohad Gilbar. I am currently a P.H. D candidate in Sociology at Bar- Ilan University in Israel and am in the process of applying for a post-doctoral post. For the last year and a half Eddie and I have worked together in three different areas. Firstly he has helped me prepare to give professional presentations in my field in English both in Israel and abroad. Secondly he has edited papers that I have written which served as the basis for these presentations. Thirdly we have read together articles related to my field and outside my field from English languages publications with the idea of improving my English language in usage and style. I can only say that Eddie has proved himself highly skilled, patient and persistent in helping me in the above areas. He has also shown a broad field of knowledge which are applicable to many different fields. I recommend him very highly.

With Regards,

Ohad Gilbar
